Add CME Credits

NOTICE: Deadline for entering CME's through 2018 has been extended to May 31, 2019.

Listed below are the General CME's for which you have currently claimed credit.

You may add additional CME credits (AMA Type 1 or AMA Type 2) by clicking on the Add General CME Credits link below.

You may edit previously reported CME credit total for a specific type and year using the Edit link associated with the specific row. You may want to do this if you have earned additional CME for a year and want to update a figure; however, you can also add an unlimited number of rows per year if you wish to keep your CME amounts discrete.

You may remove a CME row using the red "X" at the right of a row, in the Remove column.

Note that the maximum number of AMA Type 2 CME credits that count toward your requirement are 5 per year. You may claim an unlimited number of AMA Type 1 CME credits annually toward your overall CME requirement.

The CME Dashboard recaps your requirements by the MOC CME certification cycles based on your personal certification year.

Claiming and Recording Your CME Credit

Using the entry form below, enter the CME Type, the Year, and the Number of CME Credits.

You do not provide any additional details, however you should retain records for up to three years to support the number of CME credits you are claiming. You can provide multiple entries per year, or you can edit a CME amount by Year and Type from the previous screen.

You may claim an unlimited number of Type 1 CME. For Type 2 CME, the system will count only up to 5 CME per year, even if more are entered.

Note for "new Diplomates": CME earned in the first partial year of your certification can be reported in the following calendar year's cycle. For example, if you passed the April 2018 exam and were notified of your diplomate status in June 2018, any CME earned between June-December 2018 can be claimed IN THE 2019 CME period.
